

For the new season, INSEP is decked out in new colours!

New feature this september: coloured stripes have appeared at the entrance of the Institute. Each one has its own pictogram and represents a sport or a core expertise of INSEP, in order to facilitate its identification and location on the site.

Thus, visitors and athletes now only have to follow the coloured lines that run through the alleys of the Institute, to be guided to their destination.

The route is especially fun because it is complemented by some useful information, statistics and anecdotes about historic French sports performances.

An atmosphere of Olympic village that marks the beginning of the Olympiad of the Paris 2024 Games !
